Integrated with all Jack Henry Core Processors

Step 1

Select upcoming loan payment

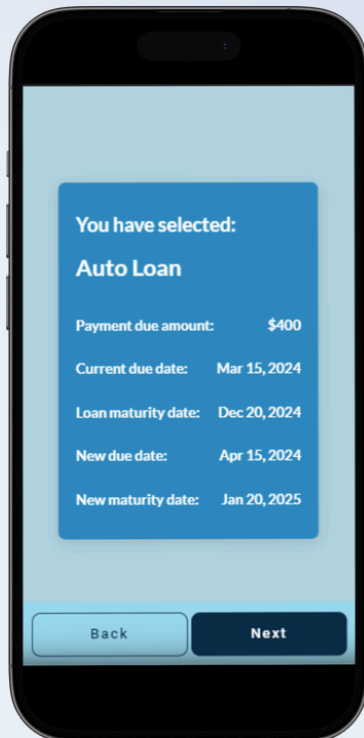

Users select a loan, check eligibility in real-time, and instantly qualify for skipping.

Step 2

Verify skip

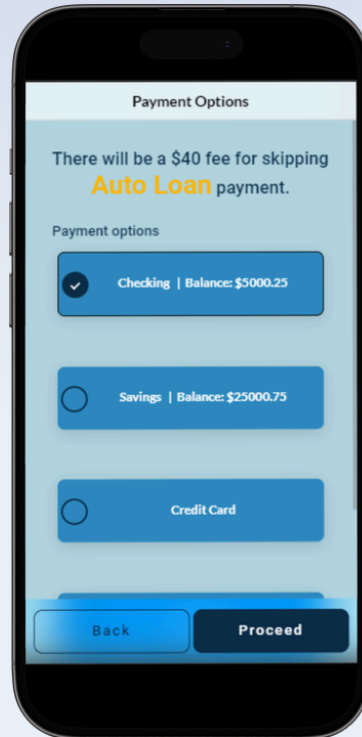

Users can quickly move their due date forward, with a default setting of 30 days.

Step 3

Choose payment method for fees

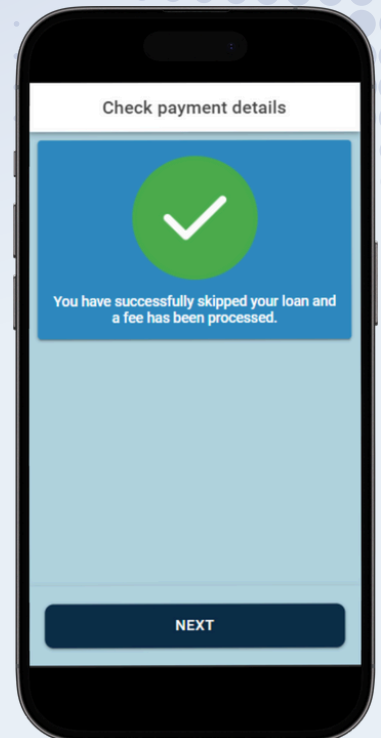

Users have options to pay fees through internal transfers, external banks, credit cards, or Pidgin (using FedNow).

Step 4

It's incredibly simple

Skip-A-Pay is entirely self-service, no need for phone calls or in-person visits. The core is continuously updated in real-time.

Testimonial

Branch Operations Head of a West coast Financial Institution

Our internal staff and our customers just love it. This is just such a big help to them to automate the process. Just being able to know the difference that we make the time savings efficiencies that we put into place for our internal teams, and how much better it is for them, is just so rewarding. We are getting nothing but good comments from the groups that are using OSSNA Next Gen Skip a Pay solution. So, thank you OSSNA guys you were great to work with.
